Integration with SuperOffice CRM

Get synchronized

Siteshop Information Studio can import company data and create online connection between debtor information in e-economic and SuperOffice.

This way the SuperOffice users can enjoy immediate access to important customer information and save valuable time.

By integrating your e-economic system with SuperOffice you can also avoid having to change information in 2 systems.

Changes made in e-economics will automatically be transferred to SuperOffice.

You will even be able to see new invoices in SuperOffice the second they have been made in e-economics.

Critical debtor information

With e-economic seamlessly integrated with SuperOffice your SuperOffice users can access valuable debtor information very quick and easy.

You can instantly see important details about your customers like terms of payment, status active or inactive, balance, invoice details and more - by having only SuperOffice open.

This makes it possible to be more prepared and react more quickly when you work with Contact cards in SuperOffice.

You can easily answer questions from your customers regarding their invoices, balance and more.

With this solution you will always have updated knowledge about your customers right at your hands.

Achieve this ...

- Better insight into your customers debtor information
- Better service for your customers
- Less preparation time for customer meetings
- Answer your customer's questions while using SuperOffice
- Easily spot customers who have or have not bought specific products from you

Included in solution

- e-economic company data import to SuperOffice
- Display debtor details in SuperOffice webpanel
- Display invoices and invoice lines in webpanels in SuperOffice

About SuperOffice

"SuperOffice was CRM - Customer Relationship Management - long before CRM became the buzzword that it is today.

We were the first company to see the value of a customer centric follow up system. This has been our trade - our only trade - since 1990.

Many of the most innovative companies in Europe have enjoyed the benefits of our early insight for more than a decade - so much so that they tell us if they had to make a choice today, they would go for SuperOffice all over again!"
